'No Commitment' On SSF Dump Plan

Daly City got its written proposal from South San Francisco this week on joint use of the latter city's fill and cover garbage disposal site, but city managers of Both Daly City and San Bruno expressed dismay over the lack of information in the correspondence.

Instead of specifying costs of operating the fill and cover site, transportation of garbage and outlining availability of earth fill, the essence of the letter said only that "We are interested in providing a long-term site for disposal."

"There's no committments at all in the letter," said Howard Stites, Daly City city manager.

"Denial Of Information"

San Bruno's manager John Keefe declared the letter was actually "a denial of the information we had requested."

Both cities had expressed interest in participating in the fill and cover site on South San Francisco tidelands but had sought specific information on how the operation would be handled. Stites had suggested two alternatives: operation of the site by South San Francisco with charges being made to Daly City on a per-ton basis; or operation by Daly City under supervision of South San Francisco.

Stites said he had expected the South San Francisco proposal to contain data on how one of the other of these methods could be actuated and what costs would be to Daly City.

None of this information was included in the South San Francisco proposal, however.

"Won't Operate"

The letter from Mayor Guido Rozzi declared, "We do not intend to operate the dump for the Scavengers of South San Francisco or any other city. We don't wish to make a profit or subsidize the dump and are unwilling to operate it on a flat fee basis.

"Since the scavengers will operate the dump they will have to make the necessary arrangements to capitalize it. We are unwilling to assume the responsibility for cost estimates.

"The dump must be maintained with proper sanitary precautions and the cover operation must be carried out in such a manner as

Cite Solutions For Broadmoor Erosion Plight

Cooperation of the Jefferson High School district in controlling silt and construction of a $2500 gutter along Edgemar road were cited as solutions to Broadmoor's critical erosion problem at a four-hour marathon session Tuesday night at the city council chambers.

The two problems, according to City Manager Howard Stites, are excess silt, most of which comes from the Westmoor high school plant, and excess water which flows unimpeded down Broadmoor's slopes in time of heavy rain.

A second session on answers to the Broadmoor drainage and erosion problems will be held this Friday at 2 p.m. in the office of county engineer M. A. Grant.

School Offers Aid

Edward Morgan, superintendent of the high school district, told Broadmoor representatives that the school district would take whatever action necessary to hold silt on their property. Since the school would be subject to payment of damages should it allow negligent flow of silt off its property, the contractor would in turn be held liable for the negligence.

Morgan said he would work closely with the contractor to avert any soil run-off.

To further avert Broadmoor property damage, the group concurred that a four mile drain would have to be built along Edgemar road to carry run-off from the high school site down towards Junipero Serra. Cost was estimated at about $2500.

Supervisor Thomas Callan proposed that the city bear 40 per cent of the cost, the high school district 20 per cent and the county the other 40 per cent.

Temporary Measure

This, Stites explained, would be a temporary measure until Zita Corporation finishes corrective grading on their St. Francis Heights subdivision, after which the Broadmoor problem will reportedly be eliminated.

Stites said he would have to carry Callan's proposal to the council. "I don't know how they will react since it amounts to us spending money on city property to benefit residents of an unincorporated area," he related.

Callan suggested as an alternative the formation of a drainage assessment district that could levy taxes to construct drainage facilities. Stites said, however, that Daly City was already handling its own drainage problems adequately.

'56 Problem Severe

Last winter the hillside Broadmoor homes were plagued with serious cave-ins. Tons of silt cascaded into the backyards of many homes, smashing bulkheads and raising levels of the yard by five

Murder-Suicide Plotted For Months

DEATH GUN still grasped in his hand in above photo, (arrow) Michael Kepp's body is examined by police inspector John Walsh after murder-suicide Wednesday morning in Westlake Medical Building. At right, Walsh covers body of Kepp's victim, socially prominent Dr. Robert de Mailly. The doctor was shot in room at right, then stumbled into corridor from force of the bullet. The doctor's receptionist, Ruth Kepp, wife of the killer, was wounded by a shot in the right arm as she attempted to elude her husband in room at right. In background reporters question police lieutenant Roy Beecher. THE RECORD photos

Cops Reveal Kepp's Quest For 'Revenge'

Police today pieced together the murder of a Westlake doctor, wounding of his nurse and the suicide of his slayer and concluded that the killer's "revenge" had been festering in his mind for more than a month.

Michael J. (Mike) Kepp, 64, fired two shots into Dr. Robert G. de Mailly, 39, Wednesday morning, wounded Ruth Kepp, 53, his estranged wife and the doctor's receptionist, then fired a bullet into his own mouth in a few seconds of violence at the Westlake Medical Building.

Police lieutenant Roy Beecher said Kepp, Westlake representative for a van and storage company, may have plotted the shooting since his wife started divorce proceedings against him two months ago.

After she had filed suit, he told a close acquaintance that "She won't live to enjoy her divorce."

Resented Doctor

Beecher said Kepp apparently resented Dr. de Mailly because he thought the popular obstetrician was interfering in his effort to reconciliate with Mrs. Kepp.

Mrs. Kepp had been living temporarily with the socially prominent doctor and his family since her separation, fearing violence by her husband, and had served as his receptionist since he located his office here.

Kepp's anger may also have been intensified by an inheritance which his wife had recently received and which he thought he had some claims to as her husband, Lt. Beecher speculated.

In late December, Kepp was observed at a local gun store trading his .22 rifle for the .32 caliber walther automatic he used in the murder-suicide.

On November 24 the despondent Kepp attempted suicide at his Westlake apartment by taking an overdose of sleeping pills but his efforts were unsucessful as he fell asleep with a lighted cigarette, setting fire to a mattress. Firemen and police responded and revived him.

In the interim Kepp had threat-

ALLEGED BOOKIES MUST ANSWER IN SUPERIOR COURT

Louis Arata and William Dower, charged with operating a $3000 a day bookie business on Old Mission road in Colma, have been held to answer in superior court.

Municipal Judge Thomas L. Bocci last Thursday denied a motion that evidence seized by sheriff's deputies and investigators from the district attorney's office be excluded as evidence.

The evidence included telephones, a radio, racing forms and alleged betting slips.

Bail for the pair was reset at $1000 cash or $2000 bond.

Name Goodell High District Business Mgr.

Fred O. Goodell, 46, a veteran of 22 years in the education field, Monday night was selected as the first business manager of the Jefferson Union High School district.

Currently employed as business manager of Coalinga Union High School and College, he will assume duties here within the next six weeks, according to Superintendent Edward D. Morgan.

Trustees made the choice during a closed session. Thirty applicants were interviewed for the post, with the two top men considered Monday night. The newcomer will receive a salary of $9120 a year.

Morgan, in making the announcement, cited Goodell as having "excellent experience and an outstanding record."

A graduate of Stanford in 1938, the new business manager received his master's degree at USC in 1951 and currently is working on his doctorate at the same institution. In addition, he has attended summer school at Columbia, College of Pacific, Santa Barbara State and the University of Mexico.

His teaching credentials include: general secondary, general elementary, elementary administrative, secondary administrative and general administrative.

Before entering the U.S. Navy in 1943, Goodell was superintendent of the Flosden Elementary district in Solano county.

He held the rank of lieutenant during his three-year military stint, serving in the Pacific, Caribean, Atlantic and Mediterranean theaters. He concluded his tour as trainer of personnel at Camp Shoemaker, California.

After separation from the service, Goodell became a teacher in the Los Angeles city school system. His next post was business manager of the Lawndale Elementary School district in Lawndale, California. He remained there until 1953, when he assumed the same position in Coalinga.

Morgan indicated that the newcomer has been extremely active in civic affairs and is prominent in the Boy Scout movement.

Goodell is married and the father of a son, 13, and two daughters, 10 and 8.

EDITORIAL

We Can Protect Our Own City

Capital outlay projects, such as libraries, city hall, police and fire stations, recreation facilities, can only be financed with some new form of revenue, other than the property tax, say city officials in this and other neighboring communities.

Political pundits cited the same kind of "emergency" status when they initiated the federal income tax and the state sales tax as "temporary" measures.

Now the cities are being suckered with the same kind of talk about new forms of revenue, i.e., the sales tax, gross receipts business license fee, that would ostensibly make possible construction of wondrous new buildings and at the same time a lowering in the property tax rate.

Just because the federal and state governments have instituted these money extracting devices is no reason the cities should follow their onerous examples.

City government is the one closest to the people and its operation should be closely coveted by the people.

While property taxes are not pleasant, they do provide a yardstick by which the voters may measure their representative's proficiency in office.

In order to perpetuate himself in office, an elected official must show concrete proof that he has practiced some degree of economy. If he does not, it's there in black and white in the citizen's tax bill. Thus, the property tax acts as a deterrent to excessive spending.

In Daly City's case, 25 cents per $100 can still be levied on the general purpose tax rate before the city reaches the limit of $1.00 per $100 set for sixth class cities.

We don't relish the thought of a maximum $1 rate, but it is preferred to sundry other money-raising devices over which the public has no control. Why should the city council be looking around for new money raising schemes when they still have a source of revenue in the property tax?

Should the $1 tax maximum be reached, the city has another alternative—bond issues—over which the public mandate rules. If the citizens feel the expenditure warranted, they can approve it at the polls. Bond issues, though costly because of interest payments, are still far and away better than the sales tax or other special levies.

Cities should stand as the last bulwark against such distasteful impositions as the sales tax and other allied money grabs.

Proponents of the special taxes cite statistics showing that "all the cities are doing it now."

We can't be responsible for the gullibility of other cities.

But we can battle to protect our own city from these ruinous extraordinary levies.

DUES, ASSESSMENTS SUIT

OWNER 'NOT LIABLE' TO PAY WIA CHARGES

What could prove a staggering blow to the organizational strength of the Westlake Improvement association was delivered Saturday when Judge J. A. Branson announced he had ruled in favor of one of the defendants in the dues and assessments suit.

The association had sought $28 in back assessments from Mr. and Mrs. Richard Opperman, formerly of 195 South Mayfair, on the grounds that the original deed and association bylaws made the payment of the levy mandatory.

Judge Branson ruled in favor of the Oppermans, but did not give any reasons for his opinion.

The association, represented by Attorney J. W. Jackson, and the Oppermans, represented by Allan Sapiro, will argue the findings before Judge Branson at a later date.

Emergency Session

The association's alarm at the decision was evident as they called a special emergency meeting Saturday night after learning of the municipal judge's decision.

In a telegram sent to the newspaper the association directors said they had resolved to appeal the judgment, declaring that the "beautiful apperance of the area will deteriorate" if the subdivision's powers of membership were nullified.

Branson's ruling means that membership and payment of dues and assessments in the association would be on a voluntary basis. Thus, a serious breakdown in the organization might follow if the payment of dues and assessments was unenforceable.

The dues suit was started in March, 1955, when proceedings were instituted against Opperman and five other couples: Sidney Sharlips, 30 Sheffield drive; Frank Gromms, 107 Lake Vista avenue; Clyde Doerrs, 2 Belmont drive; E. McAlpens, 19 Cliffside drive; and Ben A. Montalbanos, 9 Forest Grove drive.

The other cases have not yet come to trial before Branson.

Precedent Suit

Suits to obtain back dues and assessments from these families were made to establish a legal precedent as to whether the association's bylaws and restrictions and covenants in the deeds were

Will Renew Broadmoor Annex Talks

The much-discussed annexation of Broadmoor to Daly City will be taken up again next Wednesday when city officials confer with representatives of the unincorporated community to determine if the merger is any closer to reality.

The session will be held at 4:30 p.m. in City Manager Howard Stites office. Councilman Paul Hupf of the annexation committee is expected to be on hand, along with representatives of Broadmoor, Sterling Park and Garden Village property owners associations.

Stites said the purpose of the meeting "is to decide whether any further efforts towards annexation should be made at present." The perennial annexation topic was renewed with some vigor early in 1956, but interest has waned in past months.

At a special drainage and erosion meeting Tuesday Stites said the Broadmoor representatives did not appeal unanimous in their feelings toward annexation and did not know what the sentiment of the Broadmoor people was to the proposed merger.

Delegates from the unincorporated areas held that no annexation petitions should be circulated in their communities unless there was "a reasonable degree of certainty that the people want to be annexed.

Council OK's Westlake Library Site

There were few changes in the "script" Monday night at the regular city council meeting as councilmen followed through on policies agreed on informally at last Wednesday's study session.

Only new matter taken up that was not on the original agenda was selection of site for a Westlake branch library.

Councilmen backed recommendation of the library commission that the original site on the south side of Southgate be chosen over an alternate location offered by Henry Doelger at the corner of Southgate and Windsor drive.

Councilmen expressed accord with the commission's recommendation to buy the original site, subject to improval of the site by the planning commission.

Traffic Study

Police department study of the traffic conditions at the Knowles avenue—Junipero Serra intersection was called for after a member of the audience, Dino Donati, pointed out the "dangerous" condition at that location. He said drivers of automobiles proceeding in opposite directions on Knowles and Alemany engage in a "rat race" to beat each other through the intersection. He suggested that stop signs be adjusted to alternate flow of east-west travel. Mayor Joseph Verducci termed Donati's suggestion an "excellent" one.

Two bids for supplying three new police vehicles were held over by councilmen. Gateway Chevrolet submitted a price of $5237 for the three vehicles and a unit price of $1694.90. Neville Ford's figure was $5144.37 for the three, $1664.94 for one vehicle.

Two Ordinances

Two ordinances were introduced —one amending the dance ordinance to eliminate the permit fee for non-profit organizations; another that would require fingerprinting of all applicants for used

KRAUS WILL RESIGN JESD TRUSTEE POST

In a surprise move, Henry Kraus has announced his impending resignation as a member of the Jefferson elementary School district board of trustees.

Listing his reasons as business commitments and "personal," Kraus said he would remain active until after the May 17 trustee election. His term of office runs to June 30, 1958, thus necessitating a county-appointed replacement or election of a new trustee.

Mrs. Katherine Mullen, board chairman, is the only trustee who comes up for re-election in May. Her term expires June 30.

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, reminding that the board has taken no action on Kraus' resignation, said he is awaiting a "more definite" statement from Kraus before referring the vacancy to the county superintendent of schools.

Kraus, 1743 Louvaine drive, Broadmoor, is employed with the Crown Zellerbach Paper Company in San Francisco. He has served 31 months as a trustee, having been elected for a short term and re-elected for a period of three additional years.

W'LAKE LUTHERAN PICKS OFFICERS, CONSTITUTION

Westlake Lutheran Church, serving Westlake and Broadmoor, was formally organized as a congregation at a meeting last Sunday evening conducted by Dr. Gaylerd Falde, President of the California District of the Evengelical Lutheran Church.

Dr. Falde remarked, "This birthday was of tremendous importance, not only to the local congregation, but to the Evengelical Lutheran Church as well."

Key part of the meeting was the reading and formal adoption of the constitution. This was followed by the election of the officers. The following were chosen: President, Kenneth Berven; Vice-President, John Yambert; Secretary, Mrs. Marjory Ryan; Treasurer, Roc Ross; Financial Secretary, Mrs. R. D. Heitzman; Board of Trustees, Herb Hawley, Winfield Scott and R. D. Heitzman; Board of Deacons, Art Jaranson, Herb Kraling and Mrs. John Yambert; Chairman of the Board of Education, Mrs. Winfield Scott; and Head Usher, Wilfred Taylor. These people will hold office until the annual meeting of the congregation in January of 1958.

The Board of Trustees was instructed to proceed immediately with all necessary details in the incorporation of the congregation under the non-profit corporation laws of California.

The congregation also voted that the charter membership list should be left open until July of this year. This means that anyone affiliating with the congregation from now until that time shall be considered a charter member.

The meeting closed with a devotional meeting at which Dr. Falde formally installed the Rev. Charles Christian as pastor of the congregation. Refreshments and a social hour followed the formal meeting.

Now that the congregation is formally organized, it is moving rapidly toward the construction of its church building. The congregation is presently holding its services in the Broadmoor Community Center, but hopes to occupy its own building by the end of the year.

In other action, the council:

1. Agreed to ask for a hearing before the state public utilities commission on Northgate Transit Co.s' application for route changes and called for a special transportation committee meeting January 23 to discuss the route changes.

2. Held over action on proposal by J. G. Hunter to conduct survey to determine value of California Water Service facilities. In event Broadmoor was annexed, the city might purchase the corporation's water system.

OK Salary Raise

3. Concurred with City Manager's Howard Stites recommendation for a five per cent pay raise for all city employees, raises for various department heads and establishment of two new positions in the police department. The recommendations must still be reviewed by the personnel board.

4. Accepted offer of Hahne, Wise and Associates to outline free of charge the scope of Daly City's planning needs.

5. Established February 11 as date for public hearing on zoning of Zita Corporation's St. Francis Heights subdivision, part of which is planned as commercial.

Passed resolutions asking the state to grant "immediate priority" for traffic signals at Knowles and Mission street intersection and on Alemany at the intersection with Dorchester and Sheffield drives. The council's resolution pointed out that "much time has passed" since the city made initial request for signalization of these intersections and termed need for them "matters of high urgency."

8. Returned offer of $7500 from California Pacific Title Insurance Co. to purchase city lot on Junipero Serra.

"We are unwilling to state definitely what the cost of operation will be inasmuch as the ecnomic operation is the responsibility of each city or scavenger company."

San Bruno immediately called a special meeting to rule on the proposal and their reaction was expected to be negative.

Daly City councilmen will probably air their feelings on the proposal at next Wednesday's study session.

Murder-Suicide Plotted For Months

ened his wife on several occasions, police said.

Police records show that on December 11 Dr. Wylie J. Hartman, associate of Dr. de Mailly who occupied the same office, called to report that Kepp had confronted his wife outside the office and started "beating her up." Mrs. Kepp asked Daly City officers to escort her out of town because she was fearful of what her estranged husband might do. Anxious to avoid publicity for Kepp and herself, she refused to sign a complaint against him.

According to Beecher, Kepp thought he was "good for" his wife and deeply resented the divorce. He erroneously associated her attitude toward her friendship towards Drs. de Mailly and Hartman.

Dr. de Mailly had also aided Mrs. Kepp in securing an attorney for her divorce and this, too, might have infuriated Kepp, police said.

Drinking Bout

After a heavy drinking bout early Wednesday morning, Kepp apparently got up enough nerve to carry out the deed he had been planning, Beecher said.

Beecher said the crime happened as follows: Kepp entered the reception room, standing a few feet from his wife, and asked her, "How's your bodyguard today?"

He then took the gun out of his pocket and fired at Dr. de Mailly through the open reception room window. The bullet struck the young doctor in the chest, the force of it knocking him into a corridor. Then Kepp shot at his wife, who tried to hide from him under the desk, and a bullet struck her in the arm.

Kepp fired another shot into the dying doctor, then ended his own life by shooting a bullet into his own mouth.

Mrs. Kepp phoned the drug store below and special patrolman Henry Gross responded.

He summoned a physician in an adjoining office, Dr. Richard Peters. Both were dead when he examined them.

"Forgive Me"

A note found in Kepp's pocket said, "To all my friends: Please forgive me. Ruth and Dr. de Mailly and Mathild Lacau (Mrs. Kepp's attorney). Didn't believe in living and let live. I am broke and sick. Nothing more to live for. Sorry if I let a lot of you good people down. Mike."

A second note left all his possessions "if any," to his son, William, of Chicago.

Officials at the storage company that Kepp represented said the slayer had been morose and had not worked actively at his job since the suicide attempt.

Private funeral services for Dr. de Mailly were held Thursday from the chapel of N. Gray & Co. in San Francisco.

He is survived by his widow, the former Diane Lamont Beersman, member of a promiment New York family, and a daughter, Diane, 2½. His widow is expecting another child in February.

Also surviving him is his mother, Mrs. Morbio de Mailly. He was son of the late Count Ansalme de Mailly—Cholon of France.

He was the grandson of Pio Alberto Morbio, California social leader, and great grandson of Adolph Sutro, one of the Comstock bonanza kings and San Francisco pioneer.

Dr. de Mailly, who lived in San Francisco, had occupied suites in Westlake since 1951 and was well-known personally and professionally in the area.

Last rites for Kepp are pending at W. C. Lasswell & Co. in Daly City. Only known survivors are his widow and son. He and Mrs. Kepp had been married 22 years.

Mrs. Kepp was taken to Children's hospital following the shooting. The gunshot wound in her right are was not reported as serious. Police were unable to question her at any length after the killing, however, because she was in severe shock.

Coroner's inquest is pending on the two deaths. Beecher said as far as the cause of the slaying is concerned, the case is closed. "We're just tying up the loose ends."

criminal violations. Up to the same time last year a total of $9791.08 had been collected.

Close acquaintances of Westlake van and storage man MIKE KEPP wondered what was wrong early Wednesday morning when he brushed past them without so much as a casual nod.

The tragic answer to his strange manner came shortly later when he shot and killed a Westlake doctor and wounded his nurse, Kepp's estranged wife.

A pregnant woman with her small daughter waited outside the door of slain DR. ROBERT DE MAILLY'S office several minutes Wednesday morning, wondering why they wouldn't allow her in to keep her appointment with the doctor.

The SM county tax assessment men are making their periodic rounds in Daly City to check real estate and personal property holdings.

Owners 'Not Liable' To Pay WIA Charges

There are hundreds of other families who are delinquent in payments or who are not members and the association, with a victory, could have demanded payment from all homeowners.

Sapiro said "it depends on the findings but this should mean that the association is only a voluntary organization. Stipulations in the deed may not be legal."

In his argument, Sapiro had held that the association could not hold homeowners liable for assessments if they didn't belong to the association.

The association had contended that rules governing some units of the subdivision were different than those affecting other tracts.

Sapiro held that the same rules should apply to all of Westlake.

Sapiro said that the new Palisades area, Unit 7A, had not been allowed to join the present association and that Henry Doelger was apparently creating his own association in that unit to avoid legal pitfalls encountered under the previous deed stipulations and association bylaws.

Judge Branson's decision could affect property owner groups throughout the state of California. His ruling will probably be the first in a series of legal determinations on the controversial issue. A strict interpretation of his ruling could result in the eventual breakdown of restrictions and covenants running with the land, including the racial barriers imposed in some subdivisions.

Sapiro said it still must be determined whether stipulations in the original deeds requiring conformance to the association bylaws are enforceable. This, he said, will be the major legal questions decided in the findings.

Jackson said he did not know if the association intended to proceed with trial on the other cases until after the Opperman case was appealed.

To Superior Court

He said there definitely would be an appeal of the Opperman decision to the superior court. Judge Branson was sitting as northern district municipal judge when he made his decision, substituting for Judge Thomas L. Bocci, who disqualified himself.

The association said in its official release that "It would be derelict in its duty by not appealing the judgment.

"Each homeowner will be personally responsible for the enforcement of the restrictions and covenants incumbent with the land and since individual court actions are so costly enforcement by the individual will be prohibitive.

"In order to maintain one of the finest districts in California, to maintain its high standards as a first class residential district, to uphold its present property values, and to maintain and further the interest of the majority of people in Westlake it is necessary for everyone to join your association as a group to maintain these tenets.

"Westlake homeowners bought their property in the belief that they would always have a homeowners association that would stand as a unit to protect their common interest and to maintain their property values.

"Your association needs your full support and cooperation in pursuing this action to a successful conclusion in a higher court."

Contractor Gets Extension; Finish W'moor By June 24

As expected, trustees Monday night granted an extension of 124 days to Theodore Meyer & Sons for the completion of Westmoor High School.

The contractor thus is committed to have the $2,500,000 plant ready by June 24 or sooner. Originally the school was scheduled to be finished on February 20. But bad weather, strikes and shortage of materials last year prompted the request for extension.

Richard Meyer and Architect Mario J. Ciampi informed the board Monday that the project is "going very well." They said that 90 percent of the outside work is completed and the entire classroom area has been roofed.

Additional delays, seem unlikely Meyer said, most of the work to be done is inside. He estimated that all roofing work will be completed in about 45 days. Windows have been installed on the west side of the school and all faulty walls have been rebuilt with gunite.

The contractor reported that outside grading will begin in March. Seeding of grass will be done between April 1 and 15.

As of December, the district has paid $1,361,500 on the total contract of 2,508,000.

Approximately $400,00 in school equipment will start to flow into the plant after July 1. Trustees will consider a bid schedule at their January 28 meeting.

Reporting on the fire marshal's survey of Jefferson, Ciampi told the board that no parts of the school will have to be abandoned to meet safety requirements. His office is preparing preliminary drawings on the project and by late February expects to present trustees with a cost estimate of the needed work. Meanwhile, the district will call for bids on new fire extinguishers and hoses, also recommended in the safety survey.

In other business, trustees:

1. Reviewed revised enrollment projections through 1965 submitted by county-wide survey group of Stanford university. Figures are lower than report last July but still higher than superintendent's projections. Based on formula of district's current kindergarten through eighth grade enrollment.

2. Studied "Student Section" and "Additional Rules and Regulations" of administrative code. Revised code expected to be adopted later this spring.

3. Sent letter of appreciation to Classified Employes Association for recent banquet at Jefferson High School.

FRANCIS 'BOOMS' NORTH SM COUNTY SUPERIOR COURT

Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo introduced three bills in the State Legislature this week in his drive to establish a superior court in Northern San Mateo county. His first bill provides that there shall be five judges of the superior court in San Mateo county.

Another bill provides that a session of the superior court shall be held in each city with a population of not less than 35,000 in which the city hall is not less than eight miles from the site of the county court house or from the city hall of the nearest city with a superior court.

A further provision is that sessions of the superior court must be held in a city which qualifies within six months after an official request is made by such city to the court. The latter bill requires that the county establish a court in a city which makes such request within the six-month period.

Francis said: "There is no question that San Mateo county is entitled to five judges for its superior court. San Mateo county has almost half the population of San Francisco county and yet we have only four judges, while San Francisco county has 22 judges in their superior court."

He pointed out that it is imperative a superior court is established in the Daly City, South San Francisco, San Bruno, Millbrae and North Coastside area of the county. This is necessary to provide over 120,000 people in this area with equal governmental services as enjoyed by the people in the southern part of the county.

At the present time many people have to travel 18 to 20 miles to the county court house in Redwood City. Some people in Daly City and the North Coast area must take public transportation by travelling to San Francisco and then down the peninsula to Redwood City.

Drunk Driving Count Hits Shipfitter Here

Edgar M. Bartlett, 64, a Westview shipfitter, was arrested for drunk driving Tuesday night after officers spotted his car "hindering" traffic on Mission street.

Police said the shipfitter was doing only about 5 miles per hour in the slow lane of traffic and nearly caused an accident.

Bartlett flunked a sobriety test at Junipero Serra hospital. He posted $1000 bond and is due in municipal court next Thursday.

12,000 IN 2 DAYS?

Vehicle Office Awaits Motorist Mob

Workers at the Daly City office of the state department of motor vehicles probably wish the first two days in February were only history.

Manager Stan Seaton reported today that his office expects to register 12,000 motorists before the February 4 deadline.

Unfortunately, he says, the bulk of these 12,000 drivers will converge on the small office at 6165 Mission street in the last few working days.

Figures kept by Seaton show he's probably right. Registration renewals at the Daly City office have been exceedingly light these past two weeks, he pointed out.

Last year 7500 "customers" had reported for their registeration by this time, while only 4900 have shown up so far this month. And the office expects the total of registrations handled this year will be way up.

"Unless we have a decided pick-up during the last two weeks of January over 12,000 people will be paying during the 2½ days in February," Seaton said with apprehension, visualizing thousands of people queued up along Mission street. "We've got no facilities where these people can wait. If it rains it'll really be bad," he continued.

The vehicle office manager beseeches all motorists to register as soon as possible. "Those wishing to avoid this inconvenience of waiting in line should come in on Tuesdays, Wednesdays or Thursdays, which are the quiet days," he advised.

And that's putting it mildly.

CAR AGE

5.7 million passenger cars are over 13 years old, reports the National Automobile Club.

TWO SMART drivers, making sure they won't be caught in the last-minute rush, didn't have to wait long in getting their 1957 registration renewals at Daly City's Motor Vehicle Office, 6165 Mission street. Mrs. Marilyn McGue and Richard J. Southland, both San Franciscans, got quick service from Clerk Mrs. Jean McGuire. Remember, folks, the deadline is February 4. You'd better hurry. THE RECORD photo

Fund Shortage Worries Jeff Trustees

Critical need of funds to equip and complete Westmoor and to speed plans for two new Coastside schools continued to worry Jefferson Union High School district trustees this week.

Superintendent Edward D. Morgan told the board Monday night that he still hasn't received the state's recommendations on the size of the bond issue and amount of state funds the district needs to cover its program for the next five years. He announced that he hopes to have both estimates for board action at their January 28 meeting.

Immediate concern centers around equipping Westmoor for the fall semester. An outlay of approximately $4000,000 is needed, and the district doesn't have the money. Bids for 60 separate items of equipment must be let soon, however, if the plant is to be ready by September.

"We're in an extremely bad position," Morgan commented. "We'll have to award contracts for equipment before we know the results of the bond election and state aid request. But we've got to get this bid schedule going or we won't be able to open Westmoor on schedule."

Morgan is conferring with vendors this week on Westmoor equipment specifications. Trustees will consider the bid schedule at their next meeting.

Meanwhile, the superintendent estimated that the bond issue probably will fall around mid-May, same time as the district's trustee election. Portions of the bond issue would cover Westmoor needs and establish funds for the two proposed Coastside plants.

Book Youth, 18, As 'Peeping Tom' At W'lake House

A 18-year-old Lincoln High School youth was arrested as a "Peeping Tom" in Westlake early Tuesday morning when police found him crouched beneath a rear bedroom window at 1173 87th street.

Nabbed by Officer Jerry Galindo was Richard J. Crawford, 21 Westridge avenue. The policeman was summoned by Mrs. Oletha J. Dotur after she heard noises in the back yard about 1 a.m., just before her husband returned home.

According to the police report, Crawford had taken a 2x4 from the back yard and was standing on it, peering through the window. The suspect's car was found just around the corner from the residence.

The youth, released on $50 bail, is scheduled to appear in municipal court on January 29.

NAB AUTO DEALER AFTER HIGH-SPEED CHASE ON SKYLINE

A local auto dealer who led a motorcycle officer on a wild 80-mile-an-hour chase on Skyline boulevard Tuesday night is pretty well convinced there's no use flirting with the law.

Carroll Mincher, 38, co-owner of Gateway Chevrolet, was booked by Officer George Phillips on two speeding counts and for refusing to sign a citation.

Phillips opened up with his siren when he spotted Mincher's car zooming south on Skyline. The auto dealer slowed down near the dump area, but then took off again at "excessive speed," according to the report. He finally was stopped near the turnoff into Westview.

Realeased on $100 cash bail, Mincher will face the music in municipal court next Thursday.

McKEON SERVED WITH INJUNCTION TO HALT GRADING

George McKeon of the Zita Corporation was served an injunction late last week ordering him to stop all grading on his St. Francis Heights subdivision.

Injunction was obtained by builder Mike Callan, who is in the midst of a legal battle with McKeon over division of some of the lands in the old Zanone estate,

The order did not affect McKeon's operation, however, since he had already discontinued grading earlier after Callan had threatened to secure the writ.

The injunction will be in effect until conclusion of the partition suit involving McKeon and Callan.

DC's Arthur J. Bodien On County Grand Jury

Sharp Park real estate operator Ray T. Higgins was selected as foreman of the 1957 San Mateo county grand jury as the jurors were impaneled Monday by Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton.

Only other jurors selected from this area included Arthur J. Bodien, 28 Rice street, Daly City, former chairman of the county planning commission, retired Daly City water department superintendent and councilman; and Ruby L. Edwards, 333-C Klamath avenue, Brisbane, a housewife.

Something For Everyone

Teen-agers have been using the Daly City Public Library and the Westlake-Broadmoor Branch Library in ever increasing numbers during the past year to check out the many books that are available especially for young people. Young people made greater use of the library in 1955-56 fiscal year than ever before in its history.

The wide variety of subject fields covered in books published especially for the teenager reflect the broad and and varied interests of today's young people. Biographies, books on travel, science, nature study, hobbies and almost every imaginable subject are sought by these young adults.

Some of the books included on the libraries' teenage shelves are Langston Hughes' enlightening FIRST BOOK OF JAZZ, Stookie Allen's KEEN TEENS - 101 WAYS TO MAKE MONEY, and H. T. Always favored by young people are books on jobs and careers. Two very popular books about these all-important subjects are H. D. Kitson's VOCATIONS FOR BOYS and the BETTY BETZ CAREER BOOK. E. W. Epstein's YOUNG FACES IN FASHION and B. S. Dodge's THE STORY OF NURSING are examples of specialized career books that give information to the teen-ager.

Phony ID Cards Top Busy Slate For Judge Bocci

Three separate cases of minors trying to get drinks illegally at the Casbah tavern topped Judge Thomas L. Bocci's lengthy agenda in municipal court last Thursday.

Elmer White Eagle, San Francisco, was sentenced to 10 days in county jail for offering a false ID card at the bar on December 21. Co-defendant Robert Dietrich, charged with providing the ID, failed to appear and forfeited $100.

In an identical incident, James Lattimore, 19, was fined $50 after pleading guilty to using a false ID. His accomplice, James Camden, 30, airman, forfeited $100.

Two other defendants, Gilbert Olazabal, 23, and Ronald La Roque, 18, pleaded not guilty and will return February 7 for trial. They were booked on December 29.

Bocci will preside at another Casbah case next Thursday when Charles Glafkides, 21, and George Gumbel, 19, appear for trial. The pair pleaded not guilty on the two counts following their arrest on December 16.

In other court action Thursday:

1. Charles McGaughran, 23, of 137 East Moltke, pleaded not guilty to December 23 and 26 charges of being drunk in an auto, driving with a revoked license and using an unregistered vehicle. He will appear February 14 for trial.

LICENSE PLATES

Evidence of 1957 automobile registration in California is a single red sticker which is affixed to the rear license plate. The law, however, requires you to keep the two license plates on your car, reminds the California State Automobile Association. Don't remove that front plate!

Lions Club Opens 4th Annual 'Youth Art Exhibit' March 27

Daly City-Colma Lions Club will present its fourth annual "Youth Art Exhibit" from March 27 to April 1 in the War Memorial Building, it was announced today by Elio Fontana, event chairman.

Entries will be accepted from the kindergarten through high school grades, with judging to include prizes in each grade group.

The exhibit will consist of three basic categories: 1. Pictorial 2. Handicraft 3. Photography.

The Lions Club show has achieved widespread acclaim throughout the Bay Area and in San Mateo County as one of the outstanding exhibits available to the public.

Intense interest in the project is reflected by the length of this year's exhibit. It will be open for five days. The club's first exhibit four years ago was a one-day affair.

Fontana will announce his committees and judges within the next few weeks, he said.

THROWBACK to the old days of cowboys and Injuns in the wild and wooly West was re-created in San Francisco's Maiden Lane recently as KPIX kicked off its forthcoming series, "Hawkeye And The Last Of The Mohicans." Residents of Daly City and surrounding areas figured prominently in the stunt. The driver (pipe in mouth) is none other than Sol Casillas, manager of the Mar Vista Stables on Skyline boulevard in Westlake. Perched beside him (right) is a vivacious Indian maiden (theme girl for the show) Paula Lane, otherwise known as Mrs. Hayden Hamilton of Broadmoor Village. The covered wagon, 50 or 75 years old, was donated by William J. Zappettini, owner of the Mar Vista Stables. Other redskins and pioneers pictured are students at City College of San Francisco.

Crockerites Report

MRS. BUSETTO SIXTH GRADE

This year we started the New Year right. We elected new officers. Our president is Veronica Fischer. Our vice-president is Michael Ocampo and our secretary is Carol Alexander. The rest of our officers are: Lita Garay, Bank Monitor; Susanne Shalit, Milk Monitor; Allan Lonstron and Jerry Apodaca, Drills; Anthony Prado, Flag Salute; Mike Waller, Chalkboard; Ed Miller and Jim Serva, Balls-Equipment; Linda Richmond, Books-Table.

Two weeks ago we started a new netball league. Mrs. McClellan's sixth grade class won the kickball league last month.

On Thursdays, we listen to the Standard School Broadcast, and it is very good. The class is making a book showing the different kinds of instruments.

We are studying about Central America; about the climate and the people who live there. We learn other things like the exports that are from Central American countries that go to the United States and to all parts of the world. We have studied the six small Central American countries. They are: Guatemala, Honduras, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama. We like our work. It's lots of fun.

Mike Waller, Darryll Crist, Veronica Fischer, Esther Szames and Susanne Shalit were chosen by the class to plan and write our newspaper articles. Everyone gave suggestions.

Mrs. McCLELLAN SIXTH GRADE

Pert Broadmoor 'Maiden' Tops TV's Indian Invasion Of SF

By Mona Baker

The scene was in front of "Hawkeye Inn." There were Indians in feathers and war paint . . pioneers with guns . . . a covered wagon drawn by horses . . . and atop the wagon a lovely Indian maiden. Last week, San Francisco's famous restaurant, the "Iron Horse," located on Maiden Lane, became for a few hours "Hawkeye Inn," the starting point for the covered wagon surrounded by whooping Indians which drove around streets in the heart of San Francisco to herald the coming of KPIX's new television series, "Hawkeye and The Last of the Mohicans" (Tuesdays, 6:30 p.m.).

Famed Tale

The program, premiering this week, is based on the story "The Last of the Mohicans" by James Fennimore Cooper, and was filmed in the actual country of the famous novel.

Theme girl for the series and the Indian maiden who rode on the covered wagon was Paula Lane, (in private life, Mrs. Hayden Hamilton) a resident of Broadmoor Village. Dressed in a beige costume adorned with colorful beads, and a bright red feather in her hair, Paula made a beautiful Indian girl. The Indian braves and pioneers were students from San Francisco City College.

Local 'Touch'

The covered wagon came from the Mar Vista Stables, located on Skyline boulevard in Daly City. Sol Casillas of Daly City, manager of the stables, was the driver. An old-time teamster, he also was well suited for the part, having had over 40 years experience in driving horses. William J. Zappettini, proprietor of the Mar Vista Stables, told us that the covered wagon was between 50 and 75 years old, and of the type that crossed the plains in the early days.

Wearing colorful Indian headbands, the press were guests for luncheon at "Hawkeye Inn," followed by a showing of a film of the new series. We plan to review the program in a later column after we have watched more episodes.

Following the luncheon, "Hawkeye Inn" became the Iron Horse Restaurant . . . Maiden Lane became the street where fashionable women stroll . . . and the covered wagon went back to Daly City. But somehow we can't help wondering if San Francisco will be the same after its invasion by redmen waving tomahawks.

NEW FOLK DANCE CLASS SET HERE FOR BEGINNERS

People with a penchant for folk dancing will be glad to know that a new class for beginners will start on this Friday at the Colma Community center on Dunks street. Elsie Maclaren will be teaching, and a guest caller will drop in occasionally to give the group a whirl at square dancing.

The charge is $3 for a series of 12 lessons, with all proceeds going towards the center's improvement fund, plus a volunteer 50 cents for the coke fund. About half the 25 to 30 dances taught have been popular since the early days of the California Folk Dance Federation, acording to Miss Maclaren and the others are the best the newer dances approved by the federation's research committee.

The class also is open to those who wish to keep on with work begun in the class sessions which ended December 14.

Other folk dance doings are a "Polka Prom" to be held in Vallejo this Sunday at the Veterans' Memorial Building, hosted by the North Bay Council of the Folk Dance Council, and the April Festival held at the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco. The latter is one of the largest of the year, lasting for two days, with authentic costumes, exhibits, and a wide variety of folk dances. Miss Maclaren indicated that those finishing the beginners course will be able to participate in these festival dances.

Studebaker Announces Intensive Localized Newspaper Campaign

Newly elected officers of the San Francisco Studebaker Dealers' Advertising association today jointly announced the immediate commencement of an intensive localized newspaper advertising campaign throughout Studebaker's San Francisco zone. The zone covers Northern California and Northern Nevada.

The campaign challenges Studebaker's competitors and expects to attract new owners by highlighting official National Automobile Dealers' association figures, which prove Studebaker to be "tops in resale value." Other ads in the series feature Studebaker's three top models, the Golden Hawk, President Classic, and the Broadmoor 4-Door Station Wagon. A special piece of copy following this series is designed to be adaptable to each dealer's local sales promotions, according to the officers.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

PL 5-0679

Just happened to think, as we began this week's collection of events, that this is the beginning of our third year in the Village Notes department. To be exact—and allowing for summer vacations—this is column No. 81. And while we're at it, we would like to thank all the many nice people who had such kind things to say about column No. 79, we shall remember for a long time.

Checking around for left-over holiday bits, we descivered some Villagers who had come home from trips, etc., and who have finally finished unpacking — and we use the two tenses advisedly! It has taken them as long to get settled at home again as it did us to get around to finding out about the trips! Anyhow, on with it:

Away For The Holidays

John and Opal Arnott of Nimitz, plus children, spent three weeks in traveling to Corpus Christi, Texas, for Christmas and New Year's with Opal's family, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Martin. The weather was nice—all of 84 degrees on New Year's Day. The Arnotts planned to come home by way of the Grand Canyon, but the closer they got to it, the snowier the road became, so they didn't try it after all. They did get to the Painted Desert and the Petrified Forest, and took movies of same, though it was cold as cold. With the Canyon out of their plans, they went on to Hoover Dam, and enjoyed the tour there. They drove through Las Vegas, but didn't stop! There was a motley collection of rainy and snowy weather most of the way until they reached San Jose, then they began finding out how nice it had been back here. Opal also mentioned the interesting drive they had along one of the Gulf beaches near Corpus Christi, where the sand is packed hard enough for a car to go slowly along.

Other travelers were Bob and Dolly Durand of Larchmont, who went to Colfax to visit Bob's family, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Kelleher. The weather was warm in the Sierra foothills, too— 75 degrees on Christmas. Of course all four children went, and had a wonderful time . . . Ern and Marge Goodner skipped off to Salt Lake City for Christmas with Ern's family, and enjoyed ice skating and sledding at a great rate. They returned home to Stewart in time to have Marge's father, Chris Ruedi, up for New Year's. He lives in Joshua Tree (Monument).

When we started to call Ray and Aleen Johnson about their trip, we found our records all tangled up, and wound up talking first to Bob Johnson, whose wife's name is Leila. Since both families live on Louvaine, we had managed to get names and phone numbers and addresses thorougly confused! Anyhow, when the smoke had cleared we found that Ray and Aleen had gone to Fresno over Christmas to Visit Aleen's mother, Mrs. Al Brown, and grandmother, Mrs. F. H. Mitchell. NB: Bob and Leila didn't go anywhere; we asked!

More Travels

Bradley's Peg Elliott and tribe departed for Pittsburgh again this year, and were enchanted by their ride on the Zephyr Vistadome. This year there was lots of snow, to the delight of the young ones. Only problem: fitting all the locker-loads of new toys into existing space at home! . . . Joe and Theresa Berning and daughter Joanne left Maddux (and their store) and went to Clinton, Iowa, for the New Year's weekend. There was a family reunion on a grand scale, and king of it all was Joe's 84-year-old father. Although Joe had been back two years before, Theresa hadn't been back for six. The weather was perfect, too—just like it was here.

Trip of them all, though, was the Mattison exodus to Redlands. Addie and the children left right after school was over to spend the holidays down there with her family, the John Hundleys. A short way down the peninsula—and no blinker lights, an empty gas gauge, and hot temperature gauge. After much perturbation, and an ignition key turned farther in the lock, all was OK. Then came fog, on Pacheco Pass and everywhere else where there were trees. At Bakersfield, the car, which had been acting up since Fresno, finally quit, and so everybody disembarked to spend the night at the Bakersfield Inn. Young Pip promptly got ill, and after everything had finally quieted down, Addie spent a very cold hour writing Christmas cards, wrapped in Rick's Explorer jacket. Seems she had to call the garage at 11, and the heat went off at 10! Then the car came, and Addie had to drive the garage men back in a thick fog through a completely unfamiliar town. Oh yes, the Mattisons did get to Redlands the next day; the car ran beautifully after having things done to its condenser, distributor, points, and assorted other innards. The trip home was no fun—nothing happened!

Stork Report

It's a girl for Isabel and Sherry Vasquez on MacArthur, and a very special first baby, too. Her name is Elena Victoria, and she weighed 6 lbs. 5 oz. when she arrived. There is a very happy family at the Vasquez home, you may be sure.

After waiting, and waiting, and waiting, and WAITING, Bea Gantert finally presented husband Tom with a New Year's gift, Teresa Anne. She weighed 8½ lbs, and is being rejoiced about by her five sisters and one brother, Ricky, to say nothing of her parents, over on Louvaine.

Maybe last year was Leap Year, but this year is certainly one for the girls. Third member of the Stork Report group is Denise Livingstone, who is now at home on Foothill with parents Juanita and Noel, and sisters, Georgianna and Noella. She began things with a credit of 7 lbs. 2 oz.

Marlene Holmes of Stewart turned 18 recently, and her family took her out dinner dancing at the El Rancho Motel by way of celebration. They enjoyed the aquacade show in the Mermaid Room as well, and altogether it was a special kind of birthday, which is what an 18th one should be.

Marlene was busy at Christmas time also. She and the other members of the Jaguar Club, a group of local girls, visited the women's TB ward in SF Hospital, taking a tree and gifts which they had bought themselves with the club dues, and taking time to visit with the patients and bring them a little holiday happiness. President of the club is Ann Hyndman, and other members include Bonnie Wardell, Margo Sutter, Mary Subner, Carol Martinez, Darlene Banfield, Peggy Flores, Linda Larkin and Janie Ross. Seems the club started about two years ago, picked the name Jaguar just because it was different, and has been active ever since. The club has its own dances, with John Zucca of Daly City as sponsor and chaperone, and Bud Terry of the DCPD is club advisor. Bouquets to the girls for their hospital visit, and to Messrs. Zucca and Terry for their interest in and help with a very worthwhile group.

Special greetings to Suzanne and Daniel Beggs, who became Gilmanites just before Christmas. Now all the other Gilmanites will know who owns the "doggie in the window"—it's the Beggs' St. Bernard, Punchinello. He likes to sit in the window and watch the world go by. There is also young Daniel, age three, a most important personage in the Beggs household. Possibly Suzanne is known to the opera-goers in the Village, for she sang with the SF Opera last year. Right now she is busy rehearsing, for she will sing Leonora in Il Trovatore with the Berkeley Opera Theatre on February 1. In between housekeeping and rehearsals, she finds time to give singing lessons, and plans to find time as well to meet people and take part in Village doings. In welcoming the Beggs family, we don't want to overlook Dan, who is an electronics engineer. He brought his family out this way a few years ago from Milwaukee and Chicago and other points eastward.

Bits and Snatches

Don't forget to turn your porch light on the night of Tuesday, January 29. Neighborhood mothers will be on the march again for the money so important to keep on with the work to whip polio into oblivion. . . . The Presbyterian Church choir were guests at Sibine Fairbanks' Garden lane home recently, as were the Rev. and Mrs. John Glasse, and were entertained by Sibine's piano-talented niece. . . . All the music Stoneyford dwellers may have been hearing lately could well be coming from Claire Wittig's special Christmas gift, an organ. . . . Betty Hyndman had a real clan-gathering on Ellis at holiday time, with son Eddie home from boot camp, and sisters and brothers Frank and Margaret O'Keefe and Ed and Jinx O'Keefe all there, too. . . . See that cute picture of Midway's Rosemary Lamentia in a certain ad in the Times a while back? . . . Our next door neighbors, the Harold Chineveres (Maddux), have us envying their nice new neat cement work in the front and side yards. Funny how, when you get to be a property owner, you can get as excited over a stack of lumber or a collection of new brick as you formerly did over a new dress or hat or something!

Phyllis Cohen of Oakmont had a very special eighth birthday last week, with a Ginny doll theme in pink and green and all the party trimmings. Guests were Owen Marion, Andrea Shernock, Betts Heard, Kathy Kraus, Susan Millward, Linda Palmer, Carol Burgers, Mary Alice Heim, Diane Swedberg, Judy Kaufmann, Lynn Bloom, Stephanie Horne, Phillip Manheim and David Cohen. Also on hand for the celebration were Phyllis' grandmother, Mrs. Mary Cohen, and her aunts, Mrs. Bessie Titus, Mrs. Leah Herschel, and Mrs. Dora Levin.

West Virginia was separated from Virginia, Dec. 31, 1862 and was admitted to the Union June 19, 1863.

BARBARA FIGONE poses prettily on one of the American production cars that will be on display at the Westlake Auto Show and Sports Car Jamboree slated for a four day stay at the Westlake Shopping Center. The cars will move into the vast, 64-store center Wednesday, January 30, and will remain on display through Saturday, February 2. Plans call for nearly 100 American and foreign automobiles to be exhibited, with a sports car jamboree and gymkhana Saturday, February 2. Admission is free to all phases of the combined show.

W'lake Auto Show Features Foreign Cars From A To Z

From Austin to Volkswagen, foreign automobiles will be on display at the Westlake Auto Show and Sports Car Jamboree January 30, 31, February 1 and 2.

In addition to the newest in sports cars, 1957 models of all the American cars from Cadillac to Studebaker can be viewed in the vast Westlake Court for the four days.

Many of the cars to be shown will come directly to westlake from the recent San Francisco Auto Show and will be displayed by the dealers of the immediate area.

Entertainment, fast and exciting, will be provided by a sports car gymkhana and an exhibition by the Bay Area Micro Midgets club.

The newest fad to hit the area, the Micro Midgets are small editions of the popular sports cars and are highly maneuverable. Fast, for their size, the cars of the club put on a driving and skill exhibition that rivals anything seen on dirt track midget car races.

Visitors to the free show will be able to see the newest 1957 American cars at first hand and will have all questions answered by competent salesmen who will be on duty at all times, according to the exhibitors. Included in the local dealers who will show cars are: Aero Motors, Dodge-Plymouth; Carl Haas Buick, Daly City Volkswagen, Gateway Chevrolet, James E. Donahue, DeSoto-Plymouth; Neville Motors, Ford and Thunderbird; Lake Merced Motors, Lincoln-Mercury; C. M. Murphy, Oldsmobile; William J. Sweeney & Sons, Studebaker; B & C Motors, Simca; Cadillac Division of General Motors and Hanson-Theroff, Pontiac.

In addition to the passenger cars, a special section has been reserved for a truck display. The newest in production trucks will be shown, with adequate facilities for demonstrations for interested spectators, it was announced.

Sports cars will range from the most modest in price to the superdeluxe models and will be shown in the stores of the Westlake Shopping Center. All cars will be open to the inspection of the general public, it was announced.

Merchants of the Westlake area will tie-in with special merchandise promotions during the four day run of the Auto Show and Sports Car Jamboree, it was announced.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday for Mrs. Mary Silicani, 64, of 174 Werner avenue, a pioneer Daly City resident and wife of one of the community's first firemen.

Mrs. Silicani died Wednesday at Mary's Help hospital after an illness of several months.

A native of Sacramento, she had lived here most of her life. Her late husband, Bert, was a member of the Daly City fire department from its inception. One of her brothers, Rico Benedetti, is a member of the police department here.

Other survivors include a son, Albert; a daughter, Mrs. Florine Anisky; four brothers, Angelo, Columbo, Larry and Lorenzo Benedetti; and two sisters, Mrs. Hazel Rogers and Theresa Lavagnino, all of the Daly City-Colma area.

Requiem mass was celebrated at Holy Angels Church. Interment was in Italian Cemetery.

Dorus Henry Ihrie

Funeral services were held Tuesday in San Francisco for Dorus Henry Ihrie, 290 Hillcrest avenue, who died Sunday at Kaiser hospital after a long illness.

A native of Ireland and a resident here for 21 years, he was a salesman for the Hoover vacuum Cleaner Company. He belonged to the Butcher's Union, Local 115.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Myrna Pawson, Redwood City; a sister, Dorothy Hayes; a brother, Leroy, and three grandsons.

Interment was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park.

In the afternoon the Christian Youth Fellowship members are going to San Mateo for a roller skating party after which a weiner roast will be held in Fireside hall at the church. All high school boys and girls are invited.

The regular church night dinner will be held at 6:30 o'clock in Fireside hall Thursday evening. George Cherryhomes of the United Missionary society and veteran of service in the Thailand will be the guest speaker. The Cherryhomes have been doing outstanding work in Thailand and will be a most interesting speaker, the pastor said.

Hope Lutherans Join Evangelism Mission Project

The Hope Lutheran church of Daly City has announced their participation in the Lutheran Evangelism Mission. This "Preaching, Teaching, Reaching Mission" is being supported by some 4,000 members from 69 churches from San Jose to the south up to Oregon to the north.

This PTR Mission is being carried on with the purpose of reaching those people in the areas of participation who have been neglecting their obligations not only to their church but to God.

The week of February 17 will be one of activity and participation. A guest Missioner will conduct services each evening and an invitation is extended by the Rev. Marting to join in on these Evangelism meetings. The church is located on Old San Pedro Road.

JEFF JOTTINGS

By Alda Caggiano

A joint, Jefferson-Westmoor dance, sponsored by the combined sophomore classes, has been planned for Friday, February 15. Since both schools will attend, only a limited number of tickets will be available to Jeff students. It is expected, however, that approximately 110 couple tickets will be set aside for each school. In the event that one school does not sell the amount it is allotted, the other will be allowed to purchase the remainder.

Second Play?

The second play of the year, which is scheduled to be presented in the latter part of March or in early April, is not yet in preparation. Although a play has not yet been selected, likely candidates are "Taming of the Shrew," "Arsenic and Old Lace," and "The Curious Savage." Some students who have already expressed their desire to participate are: Gail Duncan, Jessie Edminster, Sandra Back, Johanne Eckert, Mary Ellen Ellis, Vivian Rogers, Janet Brown, Dixie DuBois, Sylvia Crawford, Joan Crawford, Edyth Guidry, Michele Bruseth, Karen Gerdes, Alda Caggiano, Nancy Golladay, Doris Melendez, Cecile Champagne, Emily Thomas, Sandy Karn, Marianna Dunlap, Jeanie Radoff, Mike Calvello, Richard Hall, Ron McLain, Roger Filipelli, Harold Sharp and Ray Navarra.

The senior picnic committee, under the chairmanship of Diane Brown, has eliminated all other choices, with the exception of Adobe Creek and the Marin Town and Country Club, as possible spots for the senior sneak.

Election Nears

January 25th is the date set for the election of Student Body officers. Hoping to be elected to the office of student body president are Lorrie Johnson and George McNutt, while Johanna Hedvall, Bill Strassburger and Mike Wedlake have entered the race for vice-president. Florence Verducci and Bunny Barone have agreed to run for secretary. Competing for the office of treasurer we find Diane Brown, Gerry Bertetta, Sandy Enloe, Cecile Champagne, Joyce Averell, Jim D'Amour and Margaret Hoppe. Tom Cloutier and Angela Sunderland are rivals for the office of Student Body judge, and Larry Shaw and Dan Miceli will run for head sergeant-at-arms. Competing for the office of head yell leader are Delia Patron, Lucille Morris and Vicki Rae.

Gerry Bertetta has earned the highest rating at Jeff in the 1957 search for the "American Homemaker of Tomorrow." As a Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow, Miss Bertetta will be entitled to wear the Homemaker of Tomorrow pin and her examination paper will be judged in the state contest.

The Executive Board Dinner, to take place in February, will be held at either the Lanai, the Hickory Pit, the New Tivoli, or the Prime Rib. At the next meeting, members will vote for their choice by means of ballot and also will discuss the possibility of attending a show afterwards.

CSF Shindig

The CSF will present a dinner on Tuesday evening, January 29, in the school cafeteria. Although the Executive Board will pay for the food expenses, the club members are responsible for the purchase and the cooking of the meal.

The following ten students will appear before the general student body in the rally Friday as contestants for the office of assistant yell leaders: Rose Crowley, Santa Fernandezees, Rosalie Hotchford, Frances Jensen, Connie Murphy, Mary Stevens, Vicki Tomasi, Nancy Young, Barbara Meyerson and Laura Robison. Also appearing will be the pep girl aspirants who include: Darlene Carney, Dolores Del Campo, Sherry Ellice, Maggie Lara, Sandra Lyon, Joan O'Keefe, Vivian Rogers, Susan Rudometkin, Ethel Shaw and Linda Wienholz.

WIDE-EYED with interest are these eight Garden Village kindergarten youngsters as Dr. Richard Koch, chief of the San Francisco Longhouse, Indian Guides program, explains the function of an ancient Indian drum. The chief this week concluded his visits to Garden Village, Benjamin Franklin, Olympia and Westlake schools, during which he showed the students Indian methods and lectured on their customs. A special meeting for fathers and sons who wish to join the Indian Guides program will be held this Friday night, 7 to 9 o'clock, in the Westlake Clubhouse on Lake Merced boulevard. THE RECORD photo

Indian Guides Chief Urges Early Father-Son Harmony

By Gwin Mitchell

"Family life educators are convinced that a boy who is close to his dad does not get into trouble later. If this is true, a great number of boys in this country are not close to their dads . . . We believe that . . . tragedies of teenagers can be avoided if a close relationship is developed between . . . father and son . . . This relationship MUST be developed at an early age."

The quotation above is the basic reason for the intense interest Dr. Richard Koch of San Francisco takes in the YMCA Indian Guides program for fathers and sons. Proof of this interest lies in the fact that he is chief of the San Francisco Longhouse, chief of the Northern California Longhouse, and a delegate to the National Longhouse, which will meet in Peoria, Illinois, in February. Furthermore, he has been paying personal visits to classhooms in the four Westlake and Broadmoor schools this week and last, telling the children about the Guides program, and exhibiting articles of Indian work.

Lengthy Experience

Long before he became so active in Indian Guides work, Dr. Koch had made a name for himself in the field of family life education. He has had fifteen years with this program in San Francisco, and is currently serving as secretary of the Family Life Advisory Commission. He also is secretary of the Family Life Educational Service of the San Francisco schools, and has been a speaker before many groups of which family life and its consideration are an integral part.

The "Dr." before Koch's name means MD, earned at Stanford. He has a full practice of his own, and is on the faculty at UC Medical School and at the UC School of Public Health. For all of this work, and all of the work in family life education, he still found enough time to become vitally interested in Indian Guides when a letter from John McKinley reached his desk in 1953.

McKinley, then secretary of the Golden West YMCA (and a Broadmoor resident), sent merely a form letter, but Dr. Koch at once saw the value of the Guides as a help to establishing good family relationships, particularly between father and son, and, having three sons of his own, became active in the organization.

Program Booms

Largely because of his efforts, the few tribes in the San Francisco Longhouse in 1953 have increased to where they now number 25. Proportionate growth has taken place in the West in general —400% in the last 5 years, and tribes across the nation numbered 4000 last year.

In order that more boys and their fathers may learn about Indian Guides, its aims and purposes, and its projects, Dr. Koch will speak at a special meeting to be held this Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Westlake clubhouse. After an introductory session for both, there will be movies for the boys while Dr. Koch has a special meeting with the fathers.

3 Local Students Academy Nominees

Three local students are among 21 San Mateo County youths nominated this week by Congressman J. Arthur Younger to take the final competitive examinations for entrance to the nation's military academies.

Nominated are Robert G. Grubb, 468 San Diego avenue, Naval Academy; William F. Hillyard, Box 448, Sharp Park, Merchant Marine Academy, and Andrew J. Scalese, 623 San Diego avenue, Air Force Academy.

The San Mateo County nominees will compete with other boys throughout the state. Thirty-five candidates from California eventually will be selected.

Those nominated for the Air Force and Merchant Marine Academies will take physical exams first, then the tough entrance tests. Nominees for the West Point and Annapolis will undertake final exams later this spring.

Guard's Hospital Takes Spotlight In W'lake Sunday

The newest unit of the California National Guard, the 146th Evacuation Hospital, will hold a one day encampment and open house this Sunday, at Westlake Shopping Center, according to an announcement by Col. Clark R. Miller, M.D., commanding officer.

One of two such units on the Pacific Coast, the 146th is equipped to handle more evacuation patients, in time of a national disaster, than any of the local hospitals, Major Leigh Standish, executive officer said.

Plans fall for the erection of two giant hospital tents at the shopping center with both medical and dental displays and demonstrations, all open to the public's inspection. The 146th will set-up three squad tents and will have a kitchen in operation. The program, part of the training and recruiting schedule for the 146th, will start at 8 a.m. when the trucks with the hospital equipment move into Westlake.

Men, both professional and laymen, from all parts of the Bay Area are members of the 146th, with 24 officers and 78 men slated to take part in the events during the one-day encampment.

SCOUTS SET ANNUAL BROADMOOR PARADE FOR FEBRUARY 10

To stimulate interest in the Scouting movement, Cub Pack 84 will present its annual parade in Broadmoor on Sunday, February 10, at 1:30 p.m., according to Cub Master Warren Vocke.

"This year's event promises to be the biggest and best yet," enthused Vocke. "In addition to many local organizations, drill teams and marching bands of the armed forces will participate."

A complete list of all groups taking part, the parade route and other pertinent information will be announced in the next two weeks.

TITLE-BOUND INDIANS SURVIVE SCARE, 31-29

Scott's Shot Trips Pesky Knights; Tribe Eyes Carlmont As Victim Four

Scared stiff but victorious over stubborn Hillsdale, Jefferson's league-leading varsity cagers go gunning for victim number four this Friday night when Carlmont's up-and-coming Scots invade the Daly City gym. Tipoff for the lightweight game is 7:30 o'clock.

All alone on top the North PAL with a perfect slate, the talented Tribe will be extra cautious against the Belmont crew.

Off Their Game

Coach Mike Orlich's lads were "off" Friday night as they squeaked by the Knights in overtime, 31-29. Hillsdale's slow-moving, deliberate style was one roadblock. The fact the locals weren't "high" for the tilt was another.

Orlich, previewing the campaign by saying that the eventual champion would suffer at least two losses, isn't counting his chickens before they're hatched.

"The league is really tough this time," commented Mike. "We'll have to be on the stick to go all the way."

Biggest surprise thus far is the el foldo of Capuchino. Rated the team to beat three weeks ago the Mustangs dropped their last two outings to San Mateo and Burlingame. They're back in the pack with a 1-2 record and host Jeff next Tuesday.

Top Contenders

Burlingame and Carlmont are hot on Jeff's heels. The Panthers, 3-1, nipped the Scots last week and slapped Cap Tuesday by 10 points.

Carlmont, 2-1, played its best Tuesday by outlasting San Mateo 61-60. Four Scots hit double figures in that one, and Orlich is sure his boys are in for a close tilt. Carlmont's main salvos are center Chris Jessen the football, and forward Gary Sommers.

Jeff's hairline win Friday was strictly too close for comfort. Guard Delmar Scott was the hero connecting for the winning bucket on a corner shot with two seconds left in the overtime.

Curb Pottinger

Hillsdale baffled the Tribe with a prodding ball control game. The Knight defense was so sharp that Jeff ace Larry Pottinger was held to two field goals, his lowest output in many a moon.

Jeff led most of the way, but had to settle for overtime as the Knights rallied strongly in the fourth quarter.

The Indians got the tip in the overtime and stalled 2 minutes and 58 seconds before Scott wrapped it up with his looping shot.

Guard Barry Haanen led Jeff scoring with 8 points. Center Tom Cloutier was next with 7. Len Nicholson of the Knights had 11.

Lewis Sparkles

Jeff's 30's picked up their second win in three starts by taking the lightweight game, 48-34. Wayne Lewis continued his deadly barrage with 15 points. The smooth forward leads North PAL scorers with 45 points in three games.

The Tribe lightweights led all the way. Quarter scores were 14-10, 24-15 and 30-26.

Forward Ino Patron followed Lewis with 13 points. Guard Carl Mecchi contributed 9.

Potent Gaels, Rec Quintet Roar On, Climax Looms

A torrid showdown looms in the Class A Saturday basketball League as the unconquered St. Gabriel's Gaels and runner-up Rec five are headed for a down-to-the-wire finish.

The Gaels notched victory number six last week by spanking St. James, 55-27. The Rec kids kept their hot streak going, routing OLPH, 74-23, highest count in the campaign thus far. The landslide gave the Rec quint a 5-1 mark.

Five Rec players hit double figures in the well-balanced attack. Sonny Stroller again was high man with 19 points. Guard George Klaus got 13 (playing just three quarters), Steve Anderson and Barry Krohn collected 12 each, and Garry Molossi bagged 10. Tom Macunty's 10 topped the losers.

St. Gabriel's romp was led by John Klauber with 15 points. Teammate Bob Duckworth garnered 12.

Allan Lee and John Souza, with 10 each, paced BYA's 37-18 win over Sacred Heart.

Holy Angels suprised one and all with a stunning 67-31 upset of St. Michael's. Tops in the win were Lomori, 17 points, and Berman and Ucilleli, 15 apiece. Pinelli, nephew of the famed major league umpire, potted 11 and did a fine job on the boards.

In the Class B loop, St. Stephen's ran its unbeaten mark to six games with a 31-12 triumph over Westview.

Although held scoreless in the last quarter, St. Gabriel's Babes held on to outlast vastly improved OLPH, 28-14. Ron Sobeck and Jim Guintini shared laurels for the Babes with 10 points each.

Revenge. said an ancient sage, is an acid that destroys man's mind more surely than any madness. Revenge can do a good job of destroying a man's body, too, if he suffers from it while driving an automobile. Don't try to "get back" at another motorist when he commits some discourteous act, says the California State Automobilee Association. Squelch that impulse for revenge and you'll feel better and live longer.

BYA Slates Cage Classes, League

Boys up to and including 8th graders can play basketball and receive instruction in the sport every Thursday evening from now until the end of the season, Broadmoor Youth Association officials have announced.

For the third straight year, BYA is sponsoring these basketball sessions for boys at the Jefferson Union High School gym. Practice will begin at 7 p.m. this Thursday, and all interested boys are urged to attend.

Boys in the 7th and 8th grades will be able to participate in a league which will be formed. Younger boys will receive instruction and will have practice games among themselves.

BPOA 'Hopeful And Enthusiastic' About DC Annexation To SF

Recent suggestion by the Daly City Chamber of Commerce that annexation of Daly City to San Francisco might be a possibility was received with "hopeful and enthusiastic notice" by Broadmoor Property Owners association board of directors last Thursday night.

In a prepared release by Bob Buchanan, president, the directors described the possible annexation in those terms. No further comments were made.

Directors also took notice of "persistent" rumors that someone was circulating petitions for annexation of Broadmoor to Daly City "but nobody present was able to shed any light on the source of the rumors."

Directors also renewed efforts for a lower PG&E rate and instructed attorney Tom Jenkins to represent jointly Broadmoor, Sterling Park and Garden Village in a petition before the state public utilities commission.

Other items discussed were an area-wide civil defense program and educational campaign; need for a sidewalk on 87th street from Junipero Serra to Washington; formation of a water district to buy out the water system from California Water Service.

South City JV's Nip Westmoor 28-27

Luck ran out on the Westmoor varsity cage squad last Friday as they were nipped in the closing seconds by South San Francisco jayvees, 28-27.

The Ram 30's also succumbed, falling by a feeble 32-13 count in the opener. The games were played in the Warrior gym.

The Warriors overcame a 23-16 deficit early in the last quarter to cop the varsity tilt. A free throw was the margin of victory.

Westmoor trailed at halftime, 13-11, but took command late in the third period.

Forward Rich Lewetzou led the locals in scoring with eight points. Leo Wyreck was next with seven.

Byron Van Alstyne's 30's simply weren't hitting. After going scoreless in the first quarter, they were behind at the intermission, 17-6.

Guard Jim Heick collected eight points for the Ram lightweights on four field goals.

The Rams face Capuchino's jayvees this Friday afternoon down south.

The varsity record to date is 1-5. The 30's are 2-4.

Four-Team Fight Ignites DC-Colma Kegling League

Topsy turvey scramble for leadership in the Daly City-Colma Bowling League got even tighter Tuesday night as four teams were blanketed for the top spot.

This week's results at Brentwood Bowl left McGahey & Olson and San Pedro Lunch deadlocked for first with 32-19 records. But knocking on the door are Brisbane Market, 31-20, and Towne House, 30½-20½.

Second division Edisco knocked the M&O kellers out of a shaky lead with a split decision. San Pedro, meanwhile, took two out of three from Carmona Chemical to tie the knot.

Brisbane's fast-coming crew blanked Thur Meats, and Towne House inched closer with a 2-1 nod over Donnellan Realty.

Other action saw Carlo's Pizzeria winning by forfeit over Paul's Flowers, DC Cleaners whitewashing Bank of America, and split verdicts by Luce Meats over Westlake Homes and Plaza Furniture over Vince & Fred's.

San Pedro's Al Wright hogged the spotlight, rolling the high series of 604 and high game of 244. Top team game was the Lunchmen's 978.

Brisbane gets a golden opportunity to take over the loop next Tuesday when the baysiders clash with McGahey & Olson. San Pedro squares off with Westlake Homes, while Towne House hopes to pad the win column against Luce Meats.
